Police and Crime Commissioner for Northumbria Audit Strategy Memorandum – Year ended 31 March 2013

Our reports are prepared in the context of the Audit Commission's 'Statement of responsibilities of auditors and audited bodies'. Reports and letters prepared by appointed auditors and addressed to members or officers are prepared for the sole use of the Authority and we take no responsibility to any member or officer in their individual capacity or to any third party.

1 Purpose of this document

This document sets out our audit plan in respect of the external audit of the Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner for Northumbria for the year ending 31 March 2013. This document forms the basis for discussion with you and at the Audit Committee meeting on 13 May 2013.

The Plan sets out our proposed audit approach and is prepared to assist you in fulfilling your governance responsibilities. The responsibilities of those charged with governance are defined as to oversee the strategic direction of the entity and obligations related to the accountability of the entity, including overseeing the financial reporting process.

Our communication with you is important in:

- Reaching a mutual understanding of the scope of the audit and the responsibilities of the auditor and those charged with governance;
- Sharing information to assist both the auditor and those charged with governance to fulfil their respective responsibilities;
- Providing to those charged with governance constructive observations arising from the audit process; and
- Ensuring as part of the two-way communication process that we, as external auditors, gain an understanding of the attitude and views of those charged with governance of the internal and external operational, financial, compliance and other risks facing the Commissioner which might affect the audit, including the likelihood of those risks materialising and how they are monitored and managed.

2 Scope of engagement

We are appointed to perform your the external audit for the year to 31 March 2013. The scope of our engagement is set out in the Audit Commission's Code of Audit Practice for Local Government bodies.

3 Respective responsibilities

The Audit Commission's Statement of Responsibilities of Auditors and of Audited Bodies sets out our respective responsibilities as the auditor and the audited body. The Audit Commission has issued a copy of the Statement to you.

The Statement summarises where the different responsibilities of auditors and of the audited body begin and end and we undertake our audit work to meet these responsibilities.

We comply with the statutory requirements governing audit work, in particular the:

- Audit Commission Act 1998; and
- Code of Audit Practice for Local Government Bodies.

We, as auditors to the Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner, are responsible for forming and expressing an opinion on the financial statements and reaching a conclusion on the arrangements you have put in place to secure economy, efficiency and effectiveness in the use of your resources (the Value for Money conclusion).

We are also required to report on the consistency of your Whole Government Accounts L-Pack with the audited financial statements.

Our audit does not relieve management or the Police and Crime Commissioner, as those charged with governance, of their responsibilities.

4 Independence

We have policies and procedures in place which are designed to ensure that we carry out our work with integrity, objectivity and independence. If at any time you have concerns or questions about our integrity, objectivity or independence please discuss these with the engagement lead, Steve Nicklin.

We are required by the Audit and Assurance Council (previously the Auditing Practices Board - APB), which has issued ethical standards for auditors, to confirm we have complied with relevant ethical standards requirements regarding independence. This is to ensure our objectivity and independence is maintained.

Based on the information provided by you and our own internal procedures to safeguard our independence as auditors, we confirm that in our professional judgement there are no relationships between us and any of our related or subsidiary entities and you and your related entities creating any unacceptable threats to our independence within the regulatory or professional requirements governing us as your auditors.

5 Our audit approach

Our audit approach is designed to provide you with an audit that complies with all professional requirements.

Our audit of the financial statements will be conducted in accordance with International Standards of Auditing (UK and Ireland) issued by the Audit and Assurance Council (previously the APB). Our work is focussed on those aspects of your business which we consider to have a higher risk of material misstatement such as judgement and estimation, application of new accounting standards, changes of accounting policy, changes to operations or areas which have been found to contain material errors in the past. We raise and discuss these with you on a regular basis, not just at the time of the audit fieldwork. We shall expect to obtain appropriate evidence as we consider sufficient to enable us to draw reasonable conclusions therefrom and will use a combination of controls and substantive testing procedures as appropriate.

We plan our audit to have a reasonable expectation of detecting fraud where the potential effects would be material to the financial statements. We will consider the control procedures in place to prevent and detect fraud, whether there are any significant risks of fraud that may have a material impact on the financial statements and adapt our procedures accordingly. We also plan our audit to negate the risk of management over-riding controls by testing year-end journal entries and the major judgements and estimates that management make.

Our audit will be planned and performed so as to provide reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free of material misstatement and give a true and fair view.

We outline the key stages of the audit are set out in the following diagram:

PLANNING Planning visit Risk assessment Agreeing proposed response to changes in accounting treatment or policies Developing audit strategy Agreeing timetable and deadlines FIELDWORK Receiving and reviewing draft financial statements Reassessing the audit strategy Executing the strategy, starting with high risk areas Communicating progress and issues arising Clearance meeting COMPLETION Final review and disclosure check of financial statements Final Director review Agreeing content of letter of representation Reporting to you and the Audit Committee Reviewing events after the balance sheet date Approving and signing the financial statements; signing the auditor's report, VFM conclusion, WGA assurance statement and certificate Issuing the Annual Audit Letter

6 Reliance on internal audit

Where possible we will seek to utilise the work performed by internal audit to modify the nature, extent and timing of our audit procedures. We will meet with internal audit to discuss the progress and findings of their work prior to the commencement of our controls evaluation procedures.

Where we intend rely on the work on internal audit, we will evaluate the work performed by your internal audit team and perform our own audit procedures to determine its adequacy for our audit.

7 Reliance on experts

We plan to place reliance on the following work of experts.

Area	Expert engaged by:
	You	Ourselves
Asset valuation	Gateshead Council	Audit Commission – Gerard Eve
Pension Fund liability	Actuary – Aon Hewitt	Audit Commission - PWC
Fair values	Sector

8 Group accounts

We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We are also the external auditor for the Chief Constable.

9 Service organisations

We have identified material entries in your financial statements where you are dependent on an external organisation. We call these entities service organisations. Gateshead Council provides you with all accounting and financial services and we have full access rights to documents held by Gateshead Council for the purpose of our audit.

10 Significant events during the year impacting the audit

The Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner was established in November 2012, so 2012/13 is the first year. We will consider the format of the financial statements, including incorporation of former Police Authority transactions and the need for group accounts.

As at 31 March 2013 the PCC had not formally recorded her decision on a scheme of consent or on the adoption of standing orders and financial regulations. Additionally, during March there was a change of Chief Finance Officer and arrangements for financial administration were subject to renegotiation.

11 Significant risks and key judgement areas

We met with senior management on 13 February 2013 as part of the audit planning process. During this meeting we discussed the risks that, in management's opinion, you face. We have considered the impact on our audit risk. Set out below are the audit risks and the areas of management judgement to which we will pay particular attention in order to reduce the risk of material misstatement in the financial statements.

Significant audit risks	How we will address this risk
Management override The ISAs presume that management override of controls is a fraud risk and therefore we believe should always be recorded as a significant risk. This does not imply that I suspect actual or intended manipulation but that I approach the audit with due professional scepticism.	We will evaluate the design and implementation of controls over year- end accruals and perform procedures to establish that expenditure and income are accrued into the correct year. We will perform procedures to satisfy ourselves that all material journals processed in 2012/13 are complete, accurate, authorised appropriately and contain a suitable narrative. We will also test the appropriateness of your estimates of liabilities.
Revenue and expenditure recognition There is a presumption under the International Auditing Standard that there is a significant risk of fraud in the timing of revenue recognition leading to the material misstatement of revenue overall. This is because revenue is an area of particular focus by users of financial statements and can be subject to judgements as to when the full risk and reward of the ownership of an asset has passed. For many public sector bodies, the risk of material misstatement due to fraud relating to expenditure recognition may be a greater risk than	We will evaluate the design and implementation of controls over year- end accruals and perform procedures to establish that expenditure and income are accrued into the correct year.

Areas of management judgement	How we will address this judgement
Pensions assets and liabilities	We will assess the information provided by the actuary.
Staff are members of defined benefit pension scheme. The liability is based on a range of assumptions, with significant estimation uncertainty.
Property, plant and equipment	We will assess the information provided by the valuer, and compare it with national trends.
The valuation of assets is based on a number of estimates and assumptions, including market conditions and asset life.

12 Value for money

We are required to conclude whether or not there are any matters arising from our value for money work that we need to report. The Audit Commission has specified that our value for money work consists of:

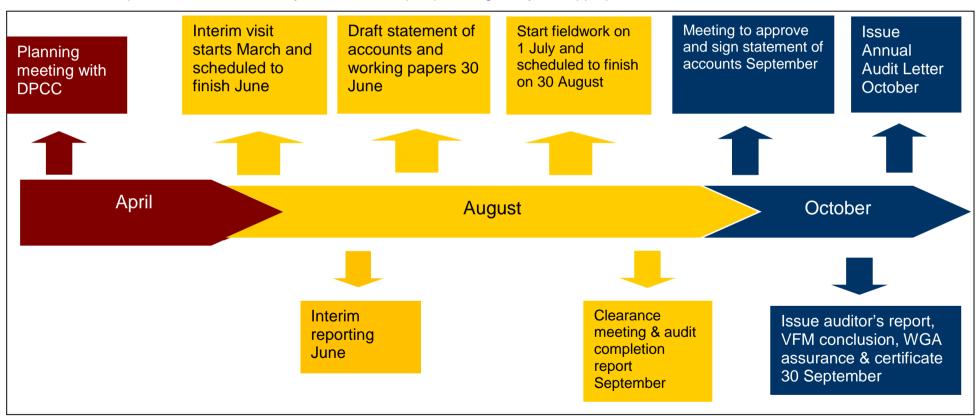

- A review of your annual governance statement;
- Reviewing the work of other relevant regulatory bodies or inspectorates, to the extent the results of the work have an impact on my responsibilities; and
- Any risk-based work we determine appropriate.

At this stage:

- We are aware of work by HMIC; and
- We have identified local risk based work to consider the transition from the Northumbria Police Authority, and the governance arrangements put in place following that transition.

13 Audit timeline

The table below sets out the timing of the key phases of our audit work. We will communicate with management throughout the audit process to facilitate a two way process of updates and identifying issues. We will continue to communicate outside of these dates to ensure that all parties understand developments and issues as they arise and to help in providing timely and appropriate solutions.

14 Fees for audit and other services

Audit fees

As communicated to you in our letter dated 13 February 2013 the Audit Commission has set a scale fee of £55,000 for your audit, and a fee of £25,000 for the audit of the Chief Constable, excluding VAT.

Non-audit services

We have not agreed any non-audit services.

Appendices

Appendix 1 – Independence

Independence is an ongoing consideration and as such we monitor it throughout the audit process. The principal types of threats to the auditor's objectivity and independence are:

- self-interest threat exists when the auditor has financial or other interests which might cause the auditor to be reluctant to take actions that would be adverse to the interests of the audit firm or any individual in a position to influence the conduct or outcome of the audit;
- self-review threat exists when the results of a non-audit service performed by the engagement team or by others within the audit firm are reflected in the amounts included or disclosed in the financial statements;
- management threat exists when the audit firm undertakes work that involves making judgments and taking decisions that are properly the responsibility of management;
- advocacy threat exists when the audit firm undertakes work that involves acting as an advocate for an audited entity and supporting a position taken by management in an adversarial context;
- familiarity (or trust) threat exists when the auditors are predisposed to accept or are insufficiently questioning of the client's point of view (for example, where they develop close personal relationships with client personnel through long association with the client); and
- intimidation threat exists when the auditor's conduct is influenced by fear or threats (for example, when they encounter an aggressive and dominating individual).

Prior to the provision of any non-audit services the engagement lead will undertake appropriate procedures to consider and fully assess the impact that providing the service may have on our auditor independence.

Appendix 2 – Materiality

'Materiality' is an expression of the relative significance or importance of a particular matter in the context of financial statements as a whole.

Misstatements in financial statements are considered to be material if they, individually or in aggregate, could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial statements.

Judgements on materiality are made in light of surrounding circumstances and are affected by the size and nature of a misstatement, or a combination of both. Judgements about materiality are based on consideration of the common financial information needs of users as a group and not on specific individual users.

The assessment of what is material is a matter of professional judgement and is affected by our perception of the financial information needs of the users of the financial statements. It is reasonable for us to assume that users:

- have a reasonable knowledge of business, economic activities and accounts;
- have a willingness to study the information in the financial statements with reasonable diligence;
- understand that financial statements are prepared, presented and audited to levels of materiality;
- recognise the uncertainties inherent in the measurement of amounts based on the use of estimates, judgement and the consideration of future events; and
- will make reasonable economic decisions on the basis of the information in the financial statements.

We will consider materiality whilst planning and performing our audit.

Whilst planning, we will make judgements about the size of misstatements which we will consider to be material and which will provide a basis for determining the nature, timing and extent of risk assessment procedures, identifying and assessing the risk of material misstatement and determining the nature, timing and extent of further audit procedures.

The materiality determined at the planning stage does not necessarily establish an amount below which uncorrected misstatements, either individually or in aggregate, will be considered as immaterial.

We will revise materiality for the financial statements as our audit progresses should we become aware of information that would have caused us to determine a different amount had we been aware of that information at the planning stage.

Police and Crime Commissioner for Northumbria Audit Strategy Memorandum – Year ended 31 March 2013

We will include in our Audit Completion Report all unadjusted errors we have identified above those which are clearly trivial.

We will also consider whether we need to reassess our audit strategy. We will discuss with you any additional procedures we consider necessary as a result of these observations. 	We are required to communicate all significant deficiencies to you, irrespective of whether you are already aware of them or have chosen not to take remedial action for cost or other reasons. We will continue to communicate deficiencies previously communicated to you until remedial action has been taken. We will consider whether failure to act, or lack of rational explanation itself represents a significant deficiency.
