	v) Hetton-le-Hole	engagements listed in the Commissioner's diary. Due to the
	vi) Washington	recording methods used, it may not possible to identify if the entries
	vii) The Millfield area of Sunderland	related to engagements in the locations you specified. To establish whether this was the case it would be necessary to review emails using a search facility connected to each diary entry. Following this, searches would then need to be conducted within paper based files which may have been linked to the diary entry to establish if there was any recorded information to ascertain if the diary entry related one of the locations in your request.
		Even at a conservative estimate of 6 minutes per record, which we have considered as reasonable, we have estimated that to extract this information would take over 5 hours for that one month, therefore section does not oblige a public authority to comply with a request for information if the authority estimated that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit of 18 hours, equating to £450.00

		You should consider this to be a refusal notice under Section 17 of the Act for that part of your request.
		As part of your request would exceed the prescribed limit, as defined by the Act, there is no requirement for the Police and Crime Commissioner for Northumbria to provide a response to the remaining parts of your request. However, in order to provide you with some assistance, under Section 16 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000, an initial assessment of the information that may be provided within the time constraints would be your questions as written above for a three month period only. You would however, need to specify which three month period you require.
		If that would be useful you may wish to define and resubmit your request accordingly.
		You may be interested to know that Northumbria Police & Crime Commissioner routinely publish information via the Disclosure Log. The aim of the Disclosure Log is to promote openness and transparency by voluntarily placing information into the public arena.
		The Disclosure Log contains copies of some of the information that has been disclosed by Northumbria Police & Crime Commissioner in response to requests made under the Freedom of Information Act 2000.
		Whilst it is not possible to publish all responses we will endeavour to documented meetings that Vera Baird has had with reference to the disposal of Hexham Fairfield.	I can confirm that the information you have requested is held by the Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner (OPCC) however cannot be disclosed for the following reasons. The information requested is not held in an easily retrievable format. It is important to note that all correspondence received by the Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner is filed under constituents surname rather than subject matter.

		To provide information which meets the criteria of your request would require all e mails, faxes, documents, external and internal correspondence to be manually reviewed to establish which, if any, refer in any way to the disposal of Hexham Fairfield. In one dip sample month the Commissioner received 83 external communications. Taking this as typical equates to 996 such communications a year. Even at a conservative estimate of 5 minutes per record, which we have considered as reasonable, we have estimated that to extract this information from received external communications would take over 83 hours a year. Further manual reviews would be required of all e mails, faxes, documents and internal correspondence adding further time, therefore Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act would apply.
		This section does not oblige a public authority to comply with a request for information if the authority estimated that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit of 18 hours, equating to £450.00.
		You should consider this to be a refusal notice under Section 17 of the Act for that part of your request. When applying Section 12 exemption our duty to assist under Section 16 of the Act would normally entail that we contact you to determine whether it is
